CHILD'S SO-BOS-SO KILFLY

A Liquid Mixture Designed to Protect COWS AND HORSES From Torture by Flies

A Valuable Disinfectant and Germicide.

FOR HORSES.

So-bos-so (Kilfly) is invaluable as a disinfectant for spraying around the stable; at the same time prevents the irksome torture of flies.

Used with splendid effect on horses while at work, especially draft horses, traveling at a slow pace and often times obliged to stand for long intervals, harnessed to the truck, exposed to the torture of the beastly flies, while the teamster is loading, unloading, or otherwise engaged. Blacksmiths will greatly appreciate the preparation. A moment's work with the Electric Sprayer and a little So-bos-so (Kilfly) will rid the shop of flies, and the horses stand perfectly quiet.

Your use of So-bos-so (Kilfly) will result in more and better milk, more money, more comfort for cows, for horses, and for you.

Kilfly has proved a perfect success in this Territory, and until the arrival of large invoices recently, we have been unable to fill all orders. We have now a supply on hand and more on the way.

Sufferers from the HORN FLY should give Kilfly a trial. We are the sole agents for the Territory of Hawaii.

BATHING POOL OF THE PRINCES

Beautiful Marble and Tile Room at Their Waikiki Residence.

Honolulu's climate is well adapted to the use of out-of-door bathing pools for private residences and a number are to be found in connection with many of the homes here. The one at S. M. Damon's country residence at Moanalua has been a source of admiration to the throngs of people who have visited the premises. The one which was recently installed at the Waikiki residence of Princes David and Cupid excels in size, beauty and surroundings any in Honolulu.

In the beautiful glass enclosed conservatory which is off from the lanai, so well known to visitors in the days when Queen Dowager Kapiolani was the owner, a commodious marble bathing pool has been built. The entrance, a counterpart in many respects of the pools constructed by the ancient Romans and Greeks, is banked with many varieties of ferns, a tiled pathway leading to it between masses of verdure. The floor throughout the conservatory is tiled and meets the marble brim of the pool on all sides.

The pool is quite deep and is lined on all sides with marble slabs, a narrow flight of steps leading to the bottom. The floor is laid with pink and blue tiles. Every morning the pool is filled to the brim with cold water and is always emptied before noon and polished.

IN AID OF ST. PETER'S CHAPEL

Chinese Sale of Fancy Work for Next Saturday Afternoon.

A sale of work will be held on Saturday afternoon from 12 to 4 in aid of St. Peter's Mission for the Chinese in connection with the Anglican Church, in the Cathedral School Room. The arrangements are in the hands of a committee of the Chinese members. The principal table will be furnished with fancy work made by the ladies connected with the mission. Arrangements have been made for a candy stall, grab box and flower stand. A special collection of Filipino articles will also be offered for sale, including Filipino necklaces, etc. A full list of stalls and the ladies who will serve them is not yet completed.

The admission is 25 cents for adults, and 10 cents for school children. Many tickets have already been sold. It is hoped that there will be a generous response to the effort which the Chinese members have already made for themselves.

HELEN KELLER'S HAND.

Mr. Lawrence Hutton is making a collection of plaster casts of hands, says a Trenton special in the New York Sun. He already has about fifteen specimens. He brought back with him from Europe recently the original cast of the hand of Thomas Carlyle, which he picked up in a London shop for a trifling sum. Among others in the collection are the hands of Robert Louis Stevenson, Lincoln and Thackeray, and the mummified hand of an Egyptian princess of the time of Moses. These Mr. Hutton has hanging on the walls of his library.

He also has a cast of the hand of Helen Keller, the wonderful blind mute, which he regards very highly on account of its artistic finish. All the lines of the skin, and even the little nervous pulsations on the tips of her fingers, with which she feels so accurately, are plainly discernible in the plaster. Beneath each cast Mr. Hutton has written some appropriate lines. Beneath that of Miss Keller's hand is the following:

"She is deaf to sounds all about us; What she sees we cannot understand; But her sight's at the tip of her fingers, And she hears through the touch of her hands."

INTRODUCED HIMSELF.

When Mark Twain lived in Buffalo he made the acquaintance of some neighbors under peculiar circumstances. Emerging from his house one morning he saw something which made him run across the street, and remark to the people who were gathered on the veranda: "My name is Clemens; my wife and I have been intending to call on you and make your acquaintance. We owe you an apology for not doing it before now. I beg your pardon for intruding on you in this informal manner, and at this time of day, but your house is on fire!"—The Argonaut.

ODD RETURN OF "SPECS."

General Ian Hamilton, of the British army, is the hero of an odd spectacle story. It appears that when a substitute he lost a pair of spectacles in the battle of Majuba Hill. They were apparently picked up by a Boer whom they suited, and who kept them for twenty years. In the early part of the present year the spectacles were found on the body of a dead Boer. The case had General Hamilton's name on it, and they were in due course returned to their original owner.

TOOLE'S GRACIOUS JEST.

J. L. Toole once gave a supper to eighty of his friends and wrote a note to each of them privately beforehand, asking him whether he would be so good as to say grace, as no clergyman would be present. It is said that the faces of those eighty men as they rose in a body when Toole tapped on the table as a signal for grace, was a sight which will never be forgotten.—London Times.

A GHOSTLY ENTERTAINMENT.

With the object of striking terror into the hearts of evildoers, says London Truth, the authorities at Cairo lately decided that a murderer should be publicly executed in a square near the scene of his crime. It proved a most unfortunate experiment. The creation of the galleys on the previous evening at once attracted a crowd of idlers, and all through the night, says the Egyptian Gazette, the square bore the aspect of a popular fair. "Hawkers cried their wares, and fun and jest abounded." When the execution took place early the next morning the neighborhood was thronged with sightseers, who looked on "with no other care or interest than if it had been an incident of a Punch and Judy show." There were many native children present, and a correspondent tells me that they were so pleased with the ghastly entertainment that games of hanging immediately came into fashion, with the result that two little ones lost their lives. In England public executions are not, perhaps, such ancient history that we can afford to read moral lectures to the Egyptian authorities on the subject. It may be hoped, however, that they will have the wisdom to abandon the new system of hanging murderers where murders are committed, for it is clear that the horrible spectacles thus provided only have an evil effect on the population.

A FORESTRY COURSE AT ANN ARBOR.

President Angell, of Michigan University, announces that an instructor in forestry is soon to be appointed. Not only the problem of how to preserve forests is to be considered, but the further and more valuable information, in certain sections, of how to create new forests, is taught. It is expected that the chair of forestry will attract the sons of farmers in particular, since the profession is one more easily comprehended in its primary instruction by them than by boys from the city, and because high rewards await the graduate fully trained and competent in theory as in practice.

FLORIDA'S ORANGE CROP GOOD.

Florida's orange crop this year will be about 1,200,000 boxes, according to the best estimate made now, says a Jacksonville dispatch to the New York Tribune. The fruit is fine, and some say the yield will be 1,500,000 boxes. Many people have come into South Florida since "the freeze" from the northern part of the State, and they have acquired small groves, which have been enlarged, so that the orange growing acreage is increasing each year. What were a few years ago small and insignificant groves are rapidly becoming large and important.

BOSTON MEN.

Barnes—"I don't know whether it is in the atmosphere or the surroundings, but the effect of lectures on me is not always the same."

Bowles—"Probably not." "When Professor Belcher lectures down at the Lyceum, I invariably go to sleep; whereas, when my wife lectures me after going to bed, I am as wide awake as can be. And I'm not at all interested in her subject. Funny, ain't it?"—Boston Transcript.

STILL "ON THE ROAD" AT 79. The oldest drummer in the United States is Colonel E. du Laurens, who travels for an ink house. He is seventy-nine years old, and for thirty-four years has been known to printers all over the country. The colonel earned his title in the French army, with which he fought in the Crimea.

A TENNESSEE DECISION.

It is held by a court decision in Tennessee that a contract to marry after the divorced wife of the man is dead, there being no impediment to an immediate marriage, is not void for infirmity, or as in restraint of marriage, or on the ground of public policy.

HADLEY OVERWORKED.

President Hadley, of Yale, is reported to have worked so hard of late in connection with the biennial as to be in rather poor health. His condition is, of course, not serious, but though he is apparently quite well, he will probably take a brief rest next month.

That the glass of bottles is acted upon by strong acids is generally supposed. The matter has been tested lately by two British chemists, who placed sulphuric, hydrochloric, nitric and hydrobromic acids in quart bottles of various kinds, but who found after several months that absolutely nothing had been dissolved from the glass.

The Mobile Register says that Thanksgiving day is likely to see the end of the Schley inquiry. It would be much easier to have predicted that the Schley inquiry would witness a Thanksgiving day.—Haverhill Gazette.

BY AUTHORITY.

AMENDMENT OF RULE 1 OF THE SUPREME COURT.

Rule 1 of the Supreme Court is hereby amended by adding to the third paragraph thereof the words "and notify opposing counsel thereof," by striking out the fifth paragraph thereof and by striking out the words "the term" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "each session" in the last paragraph thereof, so that the said Rule shall read as follows:

1.—CALENDAR.

The plaintiff in error or appellant shall notify the clerk when all requirements for placing a case upon the calendar have been complied with. If the plaintiff in error or appellant shall fail to observe this rule within ten days after such requirements have been complied with, the defendant in error or appellee may so notify the clerk.

Upon receiving such notice the clerk shall enter the case upon the calendar and notify opposing counsel thereof.

If such notice is given before all such requirements have been complied with, the case will be stricken from the calendar.

Motions will be heard on the opening day of each session after the calling of the calendar.

By the Court: HENRY SMITH, Clerk.
